Notes on
Senior Requirement
Art History Emphasis

The art history students select a research project during the junior year which must be appropriate to the major and background of the individual student. The project must be approved by the art history faculty. The bibliography, outline, and a draft are due in the fall semester. The final written project of approximately 20 pages is due early in the spring semester of the senior year with an oral presentation in the late spring. Grades are assigned in the spring.

The Senior Project Requirement in Studio Art

Ceramics, Drawing, Painting, Printmaking, Photography, Electronic Art and Design, and Extended Media:

The senior project is regarded as the culmination of the studio art major. Affording the opportunity for independent scholarship and creative work, the project is an important and exciting step designed to help prepare the student for professional activity and/or graduate study. The primary objective is that the student produce and present for exhibition a cohesive body of work that shows in-depth investigation of a specific theme or idea. There are required individual meetings with the supervising professor, as well as required group critiques which include all seniors in studio art and most of the art and art history faculty members. As a component of the exhibition, each student writes a thoughtful thesis statement (or artist's statement of intent) about her work. During the exhibition, there is a final critique of the work by a committee of four faculty members.

Important Related Policies for ADP Students in Studio Art

1. All 100 and 200-level courses in Studio Art must be taken on campus at Mary Baldwin or at another college or university, or in a group tutorial. ADP students may take 300 and 400-level Studio Art courses via individual contract (individual tutorials) with MBC professors.
2. All ADP students desiring to major in Studio Art, and who have previous college credit earned in studio art, must schedule a meeting with Professor Paul Ryan to discuss the major and evaluate the student's portfolio. Copies of appropriate transcripts should be sent to Professor Ryan or Asst. Prof. Sconyer prior to the meeting.
3. For individual "contract" courses (individual tutorials) at the 300 and 400-level in Studio Art, a minimum of five meetings are required with the instructor.
4. All ADP students majoring in Studio Art must work with the full-time studio art faculty member or the appropriate on-campus instructor in studio art as their supervising professor for the senior project.

		Total:	39 s.h

AND:

_____	Chem 121	General Chemistry I	4.0
_____	Chem 122	General Chemistry II	4.0

To receive the B.S. one must take two 300 level biology courses (not including 381), two additional 200/300 level math courses and one additional 200 level course applying math skills to the sciences, such as Psyc 250.

* ADP students who would like to complete these courses at other four-year institutions should have the course descriptions reviewed by the biology faculty in order to ensure that they will be accepted for transfer. All must include labs. Courses with labs delivered in an on-line format will not be accepted for transfer.
 Students may be exempt from this requirement if they have earned academic credit in applied statistics and scientific writing. Again, they should have this credit reviewed by members of the biology faculty. The course is designed to prepare students for 400 and 401.
 Students must complete the research under the direction of an MBC faculty member and they should expect to spend the equivalent of two semesters completing the requirement. In rare cases, research has been completed off-campus under the supervision of a qualified professional. Students who anticipate this possibility should contact the senior member of the biology discipline early in the process of planning their academic programs.

Notes on Senior Requirement

Successful completion of Bio 400 and 401 includes an oral defense of a written thesis on an original research project. This senior requirement is not possible at a distance; students must plan to travel to Staunton to complete the senior requirement.

A minor is recommended but not required for this major.

[1] Students may transfer in Accounting I and Accounting II from a community college. If they have taken only Accounting I, they must either transfer Accounting II from another college or take BuAd 208 at MBC.
[2] Students may transfer in a recent Financial Management course from a community college.
[3] Students may satisfy INT 118 by submitting a prior learning portfolio.

ADP students who live at a distance from any of the regional offices may make arrangements to fulfill the Senior requirement in a virtual classroom format. They are referred to the faculty members listed above for additional information.

Tips for Advisors

- Many business courses can be transferred in from the community colleges and used towards the major. Check with the contacts listed above if you have a question about transfer courses.
- Any statistics course can be used to meet the BuAd 222 requirement.
- Advise students not to wait to take accounting and finance until the end of one of the business majors.
- Advise BuAd students to take core courses (200, 202, 208, 222, and 230) early, followed by specialized courses 209 and 220.
- BuAd students should plan to take 400/401 last. These courses are offered in a group format in a fall /spring rotation in each region. These courses also are offered every semester in online or virtual format. See the course offerings list for more information, or contact Bob Klonoski about the online and virtual courses.
- Students should be strongly discouraged from taking Social Science Statistics online or independently. The success rate is much higher for those students taking BuAd 222 as a group or in an on campus class.
- Regional BuAd faculty can approve major pages for other regional advisors, but BuAd faculty must have their advisees' major pages approved by another BuAd faculty member.
- No more than two courses can be applied to both a major and a minor.

Senior Requirement
Chemistry Major

Senior Project is fulfilled through successful completion of Chem 400 and 401, including the oral defense of a written thesis on an independent and original research project.

ADP students at a distance or employed in the chemical industry may do the research in an approved laboratory. If appropriate, participation in an off-campus approved seminar series may be substituted for the on-campus seminar.

In ALL cases the defense MUST be before the Mary Baldwin College chemistry faculty.

Clinical Laboratory Science Major

Upon completing all graduation and major requirements, the student will enter a 12 month training period that begins in July. The student registers at MBC for Medical Technology/Clinical Laboratory Science 386 (15 s.h.) fall and 387 (18 s.h.) spring.* After satisfactory completion of the Clinical Year, the student graduates with a B.A. from Mary Baldwin College in Clinical Laboratory Science. The National Registry Examination is required for professional certification.
Admission to the clinical programs is competitive and MBC cannot guarantee admittance to these schools' training programs. It is also important to have transferred coursework reviewed in advance as these courses have not been reviewed and pre-approved as in the case of MBC's offerings. Courses taken more than five years prior to admission are not accepted.*

Tips for Advisors

- Public Communication emphasizes verbal and written communication skills as well as theory. Visual Communication stresses visual literacy and skills as well as theory.
- Communications Discipline is in transition, it may shift to a social media focus in the future.
- There is a Marketing Communication major which is better suited for ADP students interested in careers such as advertising, marketing, public relations.
- Students are encouraged to take INT 222 at MBC for a math course but it is not required for the major.

Senior Requirement
Economics Major

The senior requirement in Economics is fulfilled by taking two courses. First, in Econ 395/396: Topics in Economic Theory, students will read and discuss academic journal articles and books that have in recent years led to significant developments in economic theory. This course meets for 6 ½ weeks and carries two credits. Students may enroll in either Econ 395 or Econ 396 to fulfill this part of the senior requirement.

The second part of the senior requirement is Econ 401: Senior Project. In this course, students will work on a major independent research project that will draw on their mastery of economic theory and quantitative reasoning and will result in written and oral presentations at the end of the course. Econ 401 carries three credits. Students may complete this course in 6 ½ weeks.

ADP students at a distance who major in economics usually fulfill the senior requirement through attendance at these courses in Staunton. Both courses are offered each fall and can be taken in the same semester. Classes usually meet on Monday and Wednesday afternoons from 2:00-3:15 p.m.

*HIST 400 WILL BE TAUGHT IN FALL SEMESTER ONLY

To complete the senior project, students may take History 400 on the MBC campus or they may write and defend a research paper based on primary sources and appropriate secondary literature under the direction of a member of the History faculty. Please note that in the semester before a student undertakes the Senior Project in History (Hist 400), the History discipline asks that the student write Dr. Mary Hill Cole. In her letter, the student needs to indicate that she will take History 400 in the coming semester and she needs to indicate in what subject area she will do the project, i.e., whether it is in European or American history and, if possible, the specific subject she wishes to explore, such as "John Brown's Raid" or "The Peace of Westphalia." Dr. Cole will send her a response giving general directions for the project along with a booklet that is used in finishing History 400 according to the independent tutorial format. She should also check with the person who supervises the thesis to see if that person has time to do it. People authorized to supervise senior theses in History are Drs Cole, Franzen, Haury, Tillerson, Pincus (Dr. Pincus is a faculty member at PVCC), and Potter. Dr. Tillerson sits in on senior defenses in U.S. History and Dr. Cole sits in on senior defenses in European History.

Senior Requirement
History Major

Students fulfill the senior requirement by successful completion of History 400 (Senior Seminar).

ADP students at a distance may fulfill the requirement by writing and defending a research paper based on primary sources and appropriate secondary literature under the direction of a member of the History faculty.

Contact Person:

Dr. Mary Hill Cole mhcole@mbc.edu (540) 887-7273

Tips for Advisors

- The History department is very open to transfer history courses. Rarely is a course rejected because there is no equivalent.
- Be very careful about course numbers if using Russian History to count for International credit.
- Hist 400 will not be offered in the Spring as an on-line course.

Tips for Advisors

- This is a good minor to pair with the Business for a Sustainable Future major. No more than two courses can be applied to both a major and a minor. It may be difficult for the ADP student to find online sections of the HR related psychology courses.
- The Business Department requests that any Human Resource Management (HRM) minor pages be accompanied by students' major pages. This allows them to double check for overlap.

Notes on
Senior Requirement
Political Science Major

POLS 400 Senior Seminar is a required course for all political science majors classified by the college as seniors. In this course, students conduct independent research and write a 30 page original thesis. Senior theses build upon a solid foundation of coursework in political science, focusing on the subfield of Political Science in which the student's greatest amount of coursework previously has been completed. The senior seminar is the one course in the political science major in which the student demonstrates overall level of mastery of the use of the analytical tools of political science. Senior theses may be supervised by Professor Bowen, Professor van Assendelft, or Professor Mosher.

ADP students are welcome to attend on-campus class meetings of POLS 400 Senior Seminar during the fall semester. The seminar format is intended to provide help and support in the process of writing the thesis. Students at a distance complete the same requirements with one-on-one supervision by the professor. Weekly correspondence is used to address areas of difficulty in the research process to guide and assess progress towards completion of the thesis, to explain guidelines (e.g., documentary issues), and to provide a forum to discuss ideas and findings related to the student's research.

Tips for Advisors

- The department says that this is a good major for prospective teachers.
- Political Science will accept Political Science statistics and/or research methods courses from an accredited 4-year college or university as a substitute for Pols/Econ 222.

Notes on
Senior Requirement
Psychology Major

Majors must take the Major Field Achievement test (MFAT) in psychology administered in March on the main campus or Richmond office before they graduate.

Contact Person:

Dr. Pat Murphy pmurphy@mbc.edu (804) 282-9150

Tips for Advisors

- 3 semester hour General Psychology courses from other institutions transfer in as Psych 111, Introduction to Psychology as a Social Science.
  Students who subsequently complete MBC's 1 semester hour Psych lab have then met the requirement for Psych 101, Introduction to Psychology as a Natural Science, and could instead use it that way if they wish.
- Developmental Psychology may not transfer for the required child or adolescent psych requirement or psych elective. It may be used for the education minor.
- When transferring in Experimental Methods it must be a 4 sh course WITH a lab. If there is no lab, Pat Murphy will offer a 1 sh Experimental Psych as a patch.
- In psychology, students are only allowed to take six credits as internship credit. They can get around this by taking more as business internship elective credits.
- Psychology majors should be encouraged to take a writing emphasis course (optimally in psychology) before they do their senior thesis. This is not an actual requirement but a definite need.
- The psychology MFAT is only required for psychology majors, not for minors or for the combination majors (psych/soc or soc/psych).
- Psychology students should take Math 150 before Psych 220, 222, and 250. Furthermore, Psych 220 and 250 should not be taken simultaneously, except in emergencies.
- Majors can do an experimental project for their thesis, but they need to go through the IRB process the semester before they plan to collect the data etc.
- Combination majors are a bad idea if the student wants to go to graduate school. Other schools generally do not have majors like these, and may not recognize the combined major.

Sociology Major

The senior requirement is met through successful completion of Soc 400. Majors must take the Major Field Achievement test (MFAT) in April on the main campus before they graduate.

Contact Person:
Dr. John Wells jwells@mbc.edu (540) 886-1422

Tips for Advisors

- Social Science Statistics (Int 222) and Soc 300 (Sociological Theory) are both PREREQUISITES for Soc 320 Research Methods.
- Sociology will accept any social science, or other discipline-based statistics course that focuses on interpreting statistical output or understanding behavior. When a course is math-based, or focused on the mathematical processes of statistics, it is not an acceptable substitute for Int 222.
- Generally, VCCS ADJ courses do not count towards the MBC sociology major.

ADP Students interested in BA/MLitt/MFA

ADP students are welcome to participate in the combined BA/MLitt degree. While the timeline may not follow the exact 5-year sequence followed by RCW students, there are specific steps ADP students must observe.

1. Interested students begin by applying to the ADP program. Once accepted, students are assigned an ADP advisor, attend ADP Orientation, and register for MBC 101L in their first semester. Students must satisfy all the requirements of the undergraduate degree, including a total of 132 semester hours, with a minimum of 33 hours at MBC.

2. In their first semester at MBC, students declare their intention of pursuing the combined degree and work with their ADP advisor, in consultation with the chair of the undergraduate theatre department, to register for classes and draft a degree plan.

3. In their first semester at MBC, students consult with the chair of the undergraduate theatre department about previous coursework and experience in theatre. Students should bring transcripts and resume to this meeting. The chair of the undergraduate theatre department will help the student determine how the requirements for the major will be satisfied, specifically with regard to the following:

    a. Whether any previous coursework in theatre is appropriate for transfer in the major;
    b. Whether any previous acting/directing scholarship experience not represented on the transcripts might be appropriate for transfer credit in the major through the Prior Learning Portfolio process;
    c. Which graduate courses would be appropriate substitutions for required courses in the undergraduate theatre major (thereby counting for both the undergraduate and graduate requirements).

4. The ADP advisor guides the student through the PLP process; the chair of the undergraduate theatre department reviews the PLP and awards transfer credit as deemed appropriate toward requirements in the major.

5. Students continue to work with their ADP advisors as they take courses to satisfy undergraduate degree requirements. Once they have completed 66 combined hours of transfer coursework and MBC coursework, with at least 12 recent successful hours of MBC coursework, they may officially apply to the graduate program. An interview with the director of the MLitt/MFA program is part of the application process.

6. Once accepted to the graduate program, the student continues to work with both the ADP advisor and the graduate advisor until all the undergraduate degree requirements have been met. Then the student continues to work with the graduate advisor to finish the graduate degree or degrees.
